

Migrating from TDM to IP & Cloud Voice Networks

As the broadband landscape is evolving with significant fiber deployments, it is imperative that you stay ahead of the curve to remain competitive.

Are you currently facing any of these challenges?

- Soaring 911-Trunk, TDM connectivity, and/or SS7 signaling costs?
- Finding your legacy voice switch parts and support are increasingly difficult to find or access?
- Facing employee retirements of experienced legacy switch staff?

Any or all of these items are signals it is time for your company to evaluate the benefits of transitioning to modern, IP-based telephony.

If you are still relying on outdated and expensive TDM voice networks, you are missing out on the benefits of IP and cloud-based voice solutions for voice and signaling needs. IP and cloud voice networks offer lower costs, higher quality, greater flexibility, and enhanced features that can transform your business communication and customer service.
